BOLIVAR BULLETIN

The Memphis Monitor, one of the best Democratic papers in the State, says:

Since the adjournment of the State Convention, we have taken care to observe the tone and tendency of the Democratic press of Tennessee. One paper boasts the name of Andrew Johnson. Nearly all of the others have declared for Pendleton. There is no mistaking the popular current that has set in Pendleton's favor. It daily grows stronger.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER RAILWAY.—The surveys for this proposed road, which is to reach from Memphis to Paducah, Ky., have been completed, and the Appeal says that if the counties of Shelby, Tipton and Landers-dale will only take hold of the enterprise with the vim that has characterized other counties along the line of the road, that cars will be running over the entire length of the needful improvement in less than three years. So mote it be.

Referring to the Tennessee school for the deaf and dumb, an East Tennessee exchange of a recent date says:

We take pleasure in bearing testimony to the efficient management of this institution for some time past. The thanks of all the friends of those who are so unfortunate as to require instruction here are due to Professors Ijames and Ummel, and to the Board of Trustees, for the interest manifested and the energy and skill displayed in rendering the school everything that was intended or desired. The funds granted by the State in aid of the institution have, in our judgment, been judiciously expended, with a strict view to the comfort and improvement of the inmates.
Every one who has had an opportunity of witnessing the management of this institution will cordially approve of all we have said in approbation of its managers and management.

In addition to the interest manifested in the mental welfare of those committed to their care, the teachers have tastefully improved the grounds around the Asylum, giving them an air of comfort not often met with in institutions of this kind.

LIVELY.—Buck, editor of the Clarksville Patriot, and Mercer, editor of the Nashville Press & Times, both radicals, are running for Congress from the 5th and 6th Districts, and are indulging in a family fuss. Here is what Buck says about Mercer, and what Mercer says about Buck:

QUINCY TO THE RESCUE!—S. C. Mercer, an impudent, unprincipled, Congressional bores in the 5th District, having forgotten Rebel quintine speculations, and the oath to support the Southern Confederacy, which he took in Clarksville, is now on the plurge. In his paper he says:

"Buckled the Nashville Banner! Back and the Democratic Rebel Convention! Back and Andy Johnson! Arnel will utterly overwhelm his perfidious opponent. Not a citizen of Tennessee and never intending to be, etc."

On the 8th inst., at Hickman, Ky., R. D.
Alexander, Major of the 1st Regiment of Tennessee cavalry during the war with Mexico, and aged 68 years, committed suicide by jumping into the Mississippi river. He was a man beloved and respected by all who knew him.

THE MONEYLESS MAN.

There is a secret place on the face of the earth Where charity abounds, where virtue hath its birth, Where honesty in money and kindness will beget,
And the poor and the wretched shall "ask and receive."
In this place on earth where a knock from the door Will bring a hot angel to cheer the door All search the wide world wherever you can,
There is no open door for a moneyless man!

Go look in you hall where the chandelier's light Shines with its splendor the darkness of night;
Where the clock hangs silent in shadowy fold,
And the pendulum swings the justice of God;
Sweep gracefully, & we with its trimmings of gold,
And the mirror of silver take and renew,
In hallowed light the whirling vase,
Go there in your patches, and find, if you can,
A welcoming smile for a moneyless man!

Go look in you church where the steeple's light Shines with its splendor the darkness of night;
Where the clock hangs silent in shadowy fold,
And the pendulum swings the justice of God;
Sweep gracefully, & we with its trimmings of gold,
And the mirror of silver take and renew,
In hallowed light the whirling vase,
Go there in your patches, and find, if you can,
A welcoming smile for a moneyless man!
